

THE Mark Twain HOUSE & MUSEUM

The Mahogany Room in the Mark Twain House was used by guests of the Clemens' and has its own private bathroom and dressing room. This tile is one of two surrounding the dressing room's fireplace. These hearth tiles are original to the Clemens' era. During the 1968 restoration of the room, several layers of paint were removed uncovering these stunning floral patterns. Color your own tile!

Be sure to share your finished page and tag The Mark Twain House & Museum on Facebook or Instagram.